MUTUAL EVALUATION OF SAINT LUCIA 2nd SECOND FOLLOW-UP REPORT

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This 2nd follow-up report follows-up on the 1st follow-up report of Saint Lucia as it was presented at the Plenary meeting in June 2010. The 1st follow-up report provided an analysis of all the action taken by Saint Lucia, since the mutual evaluation, to improve the compliance by its AML/CFT infrastructure including for the core and key Recommendations.
2. Saint Lucia was placed on enhanced follow-up at the plenary of May 2009.
  - Date of the Mutual Evaluation Report: 21st November 2008.
  - Date of first follow-up report: May 2010
3. At the Plenary meeting in June 2010 it was agreed that Saint Lucia will continue on expedited follow-up and report again to the November 2010 Plenary on the progress that it has made with regard to correcting the deficiencies that were identified in its third round Mutual Evaluation Report.
4. The following table is intended to assist in providing an insight into the level of risk in the main financial sector in Saint Lucia.

II. SUMMARY OF PROGRESS MADE BY SAINT LUCIA

Findings of the MER

5. Saint Lucia was rated partially compliant (PC) or non-compliant (NC) with 46 Recommendations. Among the core Recommendations, one was rated as PC (R.1) whilst the others were rated as NC. Five key Recommendations, were rated as being PC (R.3, R.4, R.26, R.36 and R.40) whilst five were rated as being NC (R.23, R.35, SRI, SRIII and SRV). The plenary decided that Saint Lucia should be placed on Regular follow-up.

6. Saint Lucia has begun the process of attempting to cure the deficiencies, which were identified by its MEVAL examiners, by amending several pieces of key legislation. The amendments were made to the Criminal Code through the Criminal Code (Amendment) Act No. 2 of 2010; the Extradition Act, through the Extradition (Amendment) Act No. 3 of 2010; the Proceeds of Crime Act through the Proceeds of Crime (Amendment) Act No. 4 of 2010; the Anti-Terrorism Act, through the Anti-Terrorism (Amendment) Act No 5 of 2010. Saint Lucia also enacted the Counter-Trafficking Act No 7 of 2010, which is intended to give effect and implement the Protocol to Prevent and Suppress and Punish Trafficking in persons; the Money Laundering (Prevention) Act No 8 of 2010 and the Money Service Act were also enacted and came into force on January 25th, 2010. The Payment System Act was enacted on 15th March, 2010 but requires a Commencement Order before it becomes law. The Commercial Code (Bills of Exchange) (Amendment) Bill and the Insurance Bill have been drafted. Additionally, the Policy regarding a code of conduct for non-profit organisations and regulation of NPOs to promote transparency and accountability best practices has been created. As at December 5th, 2008, the Anti-Terrorism Act of 2003 came into force, through the Anti-Terrorism Act (Commencement) Order. On Monday 17th May 2010, Money laundering (Prevention) (Guidance Notes) Regulations were made by the Attorney General pursuant to Section 43 of the 2010 MLPA. These regulations incorporated the guidelines issued by the FIA. Additionally, Anti-Terrorism (Guidance Notes) Regulations have been issued.

Core Recommendations

Recommendation 1

7. As was noted in the first follow-up report, Saint Lucia has amended its Criminal Code and enacted the Counter-Trafficking Act, consequently the offences of hostage taking, migrant smuggling, participation in an organised criminal group and sexual exploitation of children are now definitively defined. Saint Lucia has also demonstrated that the other outstanding designated categories of offences are effectively covered in existing legislation. All the designated categories of offences now covered and so the examiners recommendations have been met resulting in this Recommendation being fully covered.

Recommendation 5

8. Saint Lucia's 3rd round MEVAL examiners noted significant deficiencies in the MLPA where requirements of the essential criteria were not included and in many instances where they were, they had not been adequately addressed. Additionally, the guidance notes were not OEM. Saint Lucia has responded by enacting significant changes to the MPLA and completely revising the Guidance notes. New Guidelines were issued by the Financial Intelligence Authority (FIA) pursuant to section 5 (f) of the Money Laundering Prevention Act of 2010. It should be immediately noted that according to Section 43 of the 2010 MLPA, the Attorney General can make Regulations prescribing matters necessary for carrying out or giving effect to the Act. However at Section 6 (f), the FIA has the power to issue guidelines to financial institutions and persons engaged in business activity as to compliance with the said MLPA and the Regulations made by the Attorney General. Inherently, the Regulations issued by the Attorney General on 17th May 2010, are the Guidelines of the FIA and are now referred to as the Money Laundering (Prevention) (Guidance Notes) Regulations.
9. Relative to the OEM status of the Money Laundering (Prevention) (Guidance Notes) Regulations. At Regulation 2 (2) a breach of the Guidelines by a financial institution constitutes an offence and carries a penalty not exceeding $1 million. There are no administrative sanctions available and the FIA, as the AML/CFT supervisor for financial institutions and person engaged in other business activity in Saint Lucia, has no authority to impose the prescribed sanctions. Actually, it is unclear how these sanctions would be imposed and the entity in Saint Lucia that will be charged with this responsibility. The recentness of the Regulations coupled with the fact that the 2009 Guidelines had no sanctions written into them suggests that Saint Lucia has no history of enforcing sanctions for breaches of its AML/CFT Guidelines or Regulations. Based on these circumstances therefore, the 2010 regulations cannot be deemed as OEM.
10. The first follow-up report had noted that notwithstanding the non-enforceability of the Guidelines, several of its shortcomings which were identified by the examiners were addressed by placing them in the primary legislation (MLPA).

Recommendation 10

11. According to the first follow-up report the Saint Lucian authorities have met all of the recommendations made by the examiners by mandating at Section 16(1) (a) of the MLPA amendment, 8 of 2010, that financial institutions and persons engaged in other business activities establish and maintain transaction records for both domestic and international transactions for a period of seven years after the completion of the transaction recorded. At 16 (7), if the record relates to the opening of an account with the financial institution, then the record retention period is seven years after the day on which the transaction is closed. At 16 (8) of the 2010 MLPA, it is now mandated that financial institutions and persons engaged in 'other business activities', keep all records or copies of records in a manner that facilitates retrieval within a reasonable and in a legible format in order to reconstruct the transaction for the purpose of assisting an investigation and prosecution of a suspected money laundering offences. These amendments have the effect of ensuring that this Recommendation is now fully met.

Recommendation 13

12. The first follow-up report noted that Saint Lucia, through the 2010 MLPA, had linked suspicious transaction reporting to circumstances where there is suspicion that the transaction involves the proceeds of criminal conduct, irrespective of the amount. Criminal conduct is linked to drug trafficking offences, indictable offences and the MLPA Schedule 1 offences. Schedule 1 offences are offences captured under several other pieces of legislation in force in Saint Lucia. Additionally, the reporting of STRs where funds are suspected to be linked to terrorism, terrorist acts or by terrorist organizations or those who finance terrorism is legislated in the Anti-terrorism Act of 2003 at Sections 32 (1) (d). The gaps discerned by the examiners have been closed.

Special Recommendation II

13. The Anti-Terrorism Act of 2003 has been enacted and is in force and effect in Saint Lucia. Part II of this Act creates a number of offences which are intended to bring the jurisdiction into compliance with the essential criteria of this Recommendation. Property is defined as being asset of every kind, whether corporeal or incorporeal, moveable or immovable, tangible or intangible, and legal documents or instruments in any form including electronic or digital, evidencing title to, or interest in such assets, including but limited to bank credit, travellers cheques, bank cheques, money orders, shares, securities, bonds, drafts, letters of credit.
14. Section 5 (provision or collection of property to commit terrorist acts) criminalizes the act of providing, collecting or making available any property with knowledge or intent, or having reasonable grounds to suspect that such property will be used in full or in part to carry out a terrorist act.
15. Section 6 (provision of services for the commission of terrorists acts) further extends criminal liability to making any financial or related services, directly or indirectly, intending that such services be used for the purpose of terrorism.
16. Section 7 (use of property for the commission of terrorist acts) criminalizes the use of property and possessing property for the purpose of terrorism.
17. Section 8 (arrangements for retention or control of terrorist property) makes it an offence for a person to partake in any arrangement which facilitates the acquisition, retention or control of another person's terrorist property either by, concealment, removal out of Saint Lucia, by transfer to a nominee or any other way.
18. The offences above fall within the definition of Criminal Conduct and are Schedule 1 offences of the MLPA of 2010, thereby making them predicates for money laundering pursuant to the said MLPA.
19. Section 17 allow for terrorist financing offences to be applicable whether committed within or outside of Saint Lucia and also provides for conspiracy to commit any of the offences. The intentional element of the offence of terrorist financing is allowed to be inferred from objective factual circumstances. The MLPA, 8 of 2010, has defined person to include a body corporate and an unincorporated body and also defined Criminal Conduct to include the offences captured above. The Anti-Terrorism Act however has not provided a clear definition of the term person. Therefore it is unclear whether liability extends to legal persons. All of the offences carry terms of imprisonment of twenty-five years. It should be noted as well that the effectiveness of the framework cannot be determined in the absence of statistics

Special Recommendation IV

20. The comments made at 11 above in relation to Recommendation 13 are also relevant here.

Key Recommendations

Recommendation 3

21. This recommendation was rated PC owing largely to Saint Lucia's inability to demonstrate that the legislative provisions which were in place at the time of the assessment were being effectively utilised. Saint Lucia still has not demonstrated, through the use of the existing legislation, that the relevant provisions are effectively implemented.

Recommendation 4

22. This Recommendation is still outstanding. Of the two recommendation made by the examiners, Saint Lucia has implemented one by including in the 2010 MLPA. Section 16 (2) which reads "Where a financial institution or a person engaged in other business activity makes any report pursuant to subsection (1) the financial institution or a person engaged in other business activity and the employees, staff, directors, owners or other representatives of the financial institution or person engaged in other business activity are not liable for the breach" The other recommendation remains outstanding until the Revised Insurance Act, which is currently before the Saint Lucian parliament, is enacted. The revised Act has been forwarded to a special legislative sub-committee of Saint Lucia's Parliament to facilitate comments from industry stakeholders.

Recommendation 23

23. With the enactment and coming into force of the Money Services Business Act, the examiners recommendation has been fully implemented.

Recommendation 26

24. Other than enacting the Anti-Terrorism Act and mandating in the MLPA the Authority to appoint the Director independent of the Minister, none of the examiners recommendations have been taken on board by Saint Lucia. The 2010 MLPA is silent as to who has the authority/responsibility to appoint staff for the FIA. It should be noted that at Section 4 (6) authority has been given to the Authority to appoint consultants, but only with the written approval of the Minister.

Recommendation 35

25. Saint Lucia has not as yet ratified, accepted, approved or acceded to the International Convention for the Suppression of the Financing of Terrorism.

However the legal framework for the convention, the Anti-Terrorism Act, has been enacted. Additionally, the Cabinet is currently considering the Convention on Corruption for its ratification. The convention on transnational organised crime has been approved for ratification by the Saint Lucian Cabinet and has been given the force of law through the enactment of the 2010 MLPA, the Counter Trafficking Act. No. 7 of 2010 and the Criminal Code (Amendment) Act No. 2 of 2010.

Recommendation 36

26. The Central Agency, which has been established in the Attorney General's Chambers, is now the central point through which all MLAT requests are channeled. This would have the effect of removing the overlap between the FIA, the Attorney General and the Courts, as discerned by the examiners. The examiners other recommendation relating to the restrictive condition of dual criminality has not as yet been addressed.

Recommendation 40

27. The examiners had made two recommendations to cure the deficiencies relating to Saint Lucia's ability to provide international cooperation. One recommendation related to the restrictive condition of dual criminality whilst the other related to an absence of mechanisms that would permit prompt and constructive exchange of information by Saint Lucian authorities with non-counterparts. An MOU has been signed with FINCEN and one is also being considered for signing with Saint Vincent.

Special Recommendation I

28. The only recommendation implemented by Saint Lucia is the enactment of the Anti-Terrorism legislation which came into force on 5th December 2008. Consequently this Recommendation remains partially met.

Special Recommendation III

29. The enactment of the Anti-terrorism Act has redounded to the criminalization of terrorist financing in Saint Lucia. Additionally, the Anti-Terrorism (Amendment) Act 5 of 2010, at Section 35A, provides for access to frozen funds by empowering the Court to vary restraint orders for the purpose of meeting the reasonable living expenses of the person who was in possession of the property at the time the order was made, or any person who, in the opinion of the Court has an interest in the property and of the dependants of that person or for meeting the reasonable business or legal expenses of a person referred to above. Pending MOU with St. Vincent and the Grenadines for ML and TF exchange of information Signed MOU with FINTRAC for ML and TF The 2010 MLPA at section 5 (2) (h) empowers the FIA to establish formal arrangements with any Financial Intelligence Unit which is desirable. Saint Lucia has sought to implement the examiners recommendations relating to establishing formal arrangements for the exchange of information (domestic and international) by establishing in the MLPA the ability of the FIA to enter into any agreement or arrangement, in writing with any foreign FIU which is considered by the FIA to be necessary or desirable for the discharge of its functions. It is still unclear how formal procedures for recording all requests made or received pursuant the Anti-Terrorism Act has been implemented.

Special Recommendation V

30. Saint Lucia has amended the Extradition Act, Cap. 2:10 to include money laundering, terrorism and terrorist financing to the schedule of extraditable offences. Consequently, the gap that existed has been closed because these offences are now extraditable. Saint Lucia has proffered that the Backing of Warrants Act No 1 of 2004, which came into force on 29th September 2008, makes provisions for persons to be arrested and surrendered to a 'requesting' country and that this law effectively removes the dual criminality shortcoming. Limitation however exists because according to Section 2 of that Act, the Attorney General must publish an Order in the Gazette designating a country as a requesting country. Additionally, all the other forms of assistance envisaged have not been addressed by this Act.

Other Recommendations

Recommendation 6

31. No change since the previous follow-up report. At Section 18 of the MLPA, 8 of 2010, all but one of the shortcomings identified by the examiners have been specifically addressed. That shortcoming, which relate to the definition of a PEP, was addressed at paragraph 141 of the Guidelines where PEPs has been defined to include a senior official in the executive, legislative, administrative, military or judicial branches of a foreign government (whether elected or not); a senior official of a major foreign political party; any corporation, business or other entity formed by, or for the benefit of, a senior political figure; 'immediate family' i.e. parents, siblings, spouse, children and in-laws as well as 'close associates' (i.e. person known to maintain unusually close relationship with PEPs).

Recommendation 7

32. Saint Lucia's 3rd round MEVAL examiners had concluded that there were no provisions in the law, guidelines or industry practice which completely satisfied the essential criteria. Saint Lucia has attempted to cure the deficiencies in its cross border correspondence banking regime by making detailed and comprehensive changes to its Guidance Notes. At 94 of the said Guidelines correspondence banking relationships refer to the provision of banking services by one bank (the correspondent bank) to another bank (the respondent bank). Financial institutions are required to apply appropriate levels of due diligence to such correspondent relationships by gathering sufficient information from and performing enhanced due diligence processes on such correspondent banks prior to setting up correspondent accounts. At 94 (l) of the Guidelines financial institutions are required to ascertain "whether the correspondent bank has, in the last 7 years (from the date of the commencement of the business relationship or negotiations therefore), been the subject of, or is currently subject to any regulatory action or any AML prosecutions or investigations. A primary source from which this information may be sought and ascertained would be the regulator for the jurisdiction in which the correspondent bank is resident. Information may also be available from its website" At 94 (j) of the Guidelines financial institutions are required to determine whether the correspondent bank has "established and implemented sound customer due diligence, anti-money laundering policies and strategies and appointed a Compliance Officer (at management level), inclusive of obtaining a copy of its AML policy and guidelines”

33. The requirement that each institution document the AML/CFT responsibility of each other has not been met because at 94 (o) the requirement is that financial institutions document the respective responsibilities of each institution in relation to the operation of the correspondent account. Saint Lucia has proffered that Section 17 of the MLPA covers the requirement because at Section 17 (8) (a) of the 2010 MLPA there is the requirement that a financial institution or person engaged in other business activity relying upon an intermediary or third party is required to immediately obtain the necessary information gathered pursuant to its CDD measures. This interpretation on the part of Saint Lucia is incorrect however because Section 17 (8) (a) of the 2010 MLPA is actually setting out the criteria under which financial institutions or person engaged in other business activity may rely on intermediaries or other third parties to perform certain aspects of the CDD process. At 94 (r) however, the financial institutions are mandated to ensure that their respondent bank is able to provide any relevant customer identification data or information immediately upon it being requested. This recommendation is still outstanding.

Recommendation 8

34. This Recommendation remains partially met. Saint Lucia has sought to implement the examiners recommendation that legislation should be enacted to prevent the misuse of technological developments in ML/TF by amending the Guidelines. Paragraphs 90 to paragraph 105 of the 2010 Guidelines refer specifically to non face-to-face customers. At paragraph 96 financial services providers offering services over the Internet is required to implement procedures to identify its client with care being taken to ensure that the same supporting documents is obtained from the Internet customer as with other customers particularly where face to face verification is not practical. In view of the additional risks of conducting business over the Internet, the Guidelines require financial institutions to monitor on a regular basis, the activity in customers accounts opened on the Internet. This recommendation is only partially implemented because no mention is made of any policy requirement to deal with the misuse of technological developments outside of those posed by Internet related transactions.
35. The shortcoming related to non face-to-face customers is implemented by the Guidelines, at paragraph 90 through paragraph 93, where financial institutions are required to apply equally effective customer identification procedures and ongoing monitoring standards to non-face-to-face customers as for those available for personal interview and take adequate measures to mitigate the higher risk. The measures to mitigate the risk include, certification of the documents presented; requisition of additional documents to complement those which are required for non-face-to-face customers and independent verification of documents by contacting a third party.

Recommendation 9

36. The two recommendations made by the examiners to fill the gap discerned in the MER have been taken on board by Saint Lucia. As was noted in the previous follow-up report, the MLPA has set specific criteria under which financial institutions and persons engaged in other business activity may rely on intermediaries and third parties to perform aspects of the CDD process.

Recommendation 11

37. There has been no change from the previous follow-up report. The examiners had noted in the MER that neither the MLPA nor the Guidelines which were in force at the time of the onsite visit, made any reference whatsoever to complex, unusual or large transactions or even to unusual patterns of transactions having no apparent or visible economic or lawful purpose. Consequently, financial institutions did not document the findings on the background and purpose of such transactions and there were no procedures which would ensure that such information is stored and made available to the competent authorities. The new guidelines at paragraph 31 now mandates financial institutions to “pay particular attention to all complex, unusual or large business transactions, or unusual patterns of transactions, whether completed or not, and to insignificant but periodic transactions which have no apparent economic or lawful purpose”. The MPLA, 8 of 2010, at Section 16 (m) requires that complex transactions or unusual transactions be reported to the FIA. It is also noted that although the definition of transaction record under Section 2 of the 2010 MLPA, has been expanded to now include all business correspondence relating to the transaction and documents relating to the background and purpose of the transaction, there is still no obligation for financial institutions to examine the background of these transactions and to set forth their findings in writing. It is noted that section 16 (1) (a) provides that a financial institution must establish and maintain transaction records. Further the same provision requires that a financial institution reports large complex and unusual transaction to the FIA. Section 2 indicates that the transaction record includes the identification, description, details, value, name and address and documents relating to the background and purpose of the transaction. Therefore all financial institutions have an obligation to examine the background etc for the purposes of reporting to the FIA in writing. This Recommendation remains outstanding.

Recommendation 12

38. Saint Lucia has particularised DNFBPs under Part B of Schedule 2 of the 2010 MLPA, by referring to them as “Other business activity”. The activities captured include: Real estate business; Car dealerships; Casinos (gaming houses); Courier services; Jewellery business; Internet gaming and wagering services; Management Companies; Asset management and advice-custodial services; Nominee services; Registered agents; Any business transaction conducted at a post office involving money order; Lending including personal credits, factoring with or without recourse, financial or commercial transaction including forfeiting cheque cashing services; Finance leasing; Venture risk capital; Money transmission services; Issuing and administering means of payment (e.g. credit cards, travellers’ cheques and bankers drafts); Guarantees and commitments; Trading for own account of customers in- (a) money marked instruments (cheques, bills, certificates of deposit etc.); (b) foreign exchange; (c) financial futures and options; (d) exchange and interest rate instruments; and (e) transferable instruments; Underwriting share issues and the participation in such issues; Money broking; Investment business; Deposit taking; Bullion taking; Financial intermediaries; Custody services; Securities broking and underwriting; Investment and merchant banking; Asset management services; Trusts and management services; Company formation and management services; Collective investment schemes and mutual funds; Attorneys-at-law and Accountants. The Guidelines does not in any way differentiate between financial institutions and 'other business activity' but has defined financial institutions to include all these activities. All of the obligations and burdens applicable to financial institutions are equally applicable to 'other business activity' and consequently to DNFBPs.

39. Specifically relating to the examiners comments, the inclusion of attorneys-at-law in the definition of 'other business activity' in the 2010 MLPA places a direct mandatory obligation for them to comply with the provisions of the 2010 MLPA relating to PEPs, non face-to-face businesses and 3rd party referrals and for cross border banking relationships pursuant to the Guidelines.
40. Section 17 (4) of the 2010 MLPA requires financial institutions to identify and verify customers' identity using reliable independent source document, data or information. Section 17 (4)(b) mandates identification of the beneficial owner and taking reasonable steps to verify the identity of the beneficial owner such so that it is known who the beneficial owner is and for legal persons and arrangements this should include taking reasonable measures to understand the ownership and control structure of the customer. This provision however does not extend to a person engaged in other business activity and as such remains a shortcoming in the existing regime. Section 17 (1) relates to financial institution or a person engaged in other business activity shall undertake customer due diligence measures. Section 17 (4) indicates that the customers due diligence measures to be taken are to be taken under this section, which is section 17. Consequently, the provision does extend to persons engaged in other business activity.
41. The examiners had noted in the MER that there was no threshold amount addressed in the MLPA (2003). The 2010 MLPA has established at Section 17(1)(b)(ii) a threshold of above $25,000.00 in respect of occasional transactions or transactions that are wire transfers for which financial institutions and a person engaged in other business activity shall engage in CDD measures including identifying and verifying the identity of customers when. At Section 15 (3) of the 2010 MLPA business involving a one-off transaction where payment is to be made by or to an applicant for business is subject to the financial institution or person engaged in other business activity, taking measures to satisfy themselves as to the true identity of the applicant. In the two circumstances mentioned above, the threshold exceeds that set in respect of casinos engaging in financial transactions.
42. The 2010 MLPA at 17 (4)(d) mandates that ongoing due diligence be conducted on the business relationship and that transactions must be scrutinised throughout the course of that relationship to ensure that the transactions being conducted are consistent with the financial institution's knowledge of the customer. Again, there is no obligation on the part of a person engaged in other business activity and so DNFBPs are not mandated to conduct ongoing CDD. Section 17 (1) relates to financial institution or a person engaged in other business activity shall undertake customer due diligence measures. Section 17 (4) indicates that the customers due diligence measures to be taken are to be taken under this section, which is section 17. Consequently, the provision does extend to persons engaged in other business activity. Saint Lucia has drafted DNFBP specific guidelines which are intended to satisfy these outstanding weaknesses.

43. Relative to the shortcoming that no requirements for simplified CDD measures to be unacceptable in specific higher risk circumstances, the 2010 MLPA at Section 17(9) has mandated that “for higher risk categories, a financial institution or person engaged in other business activity shall perform enhanced due diligence”.
44. DNFBPs must now comply with specific PEP related requirements as mandated at Section 18 of the 2010 MLPA. The shortcoming now existing however is that Saint Lucia still has not defined exactly who would qualify to be categorised as being a PEP. 2010 Guidance Notes at paragraph 141 defines PEPs to include a senior official in the executive, legislative, administrative, military or judicial branches of a foreign government (whether elected or not) (B) a senior official of a major foreign political party, (C) any corporation business or other entity formed by, or for the benefit of, a senior political figure (D) immediate family i.e. parents, siblings, spouse, children and in law as well as close associates (i.e. person known to maintain unusually close relationship with PEPs)
45. The Guidelines, at paragraphs 90 to 101 has advised that “financial institutions should apply equally effective customer identification procedures and on-going monitoring standards to non-face-to-face customers as for those available for personal interview”.
46. The gap discerned by the examiners that there were no rules requiring DNFBPs to pay particular attention to relationships and with persons in countries that do not apply the FATF Recommendations has been closed by virtue of Section 16 (1)(h) of the 2010 MLPA. This Section has asked that financial institutions and person engaged in other business activity develop and apply procedures to address the specific risks associated with non-face-to-face business relationships for countries that do not apply the FATF Recommendations. The weakness relative to counter-measures for countries that do not apply the FATF Recommendations or apply them insufficiently has been strengthened by the Guidelines. At paragraph 147 a number of high-risk indicators have been detailed. The counter measures detailed are: (i) stricter know your customer procedures e.g. more detailed information on customer’s background, reputation, etc. (ii) management information systems to monitor accounts with greater frequency than low risk accounts (iii) senior management approval for establishment of accounts (iv) senior management to monitor accounts.
47. The action by Saint Lucia has ensured that significant gaps in the implementation of this Recommendation have been filled.

Recommendation 14

48. Saint Lucia has not implemented the examiners recommendation but has instead repeated Section 9(3) of the 2003 MLPA, which had been deemed insufficient in the MER. The repeated section can now be found at Section 16 (2) of the 2010 MLPA. Consequently, indemnity against criminal and civil liability for breaches of any restriction on disclosure of information has not been sufficiently implemented. At Section 16(3) of the 2010 MLPA it is an offence for the financial institution, or a person engaged in other business activity and the employees, staff, directors, owners or other representatives of the financial institution or person engaged in other business activity, to disclose to the person who is the subject of the report or to anyone else that a suspicion has been formed or that information has been communicated to the authority or any information which may alert the person to whom the information is disclosed could reasonably be expected to infer that the suspicion has been formed or that a report has been made. Reference is made to section 37 of the MLPA, which deals with criminal and civil liability for information provided. Further section 33 of the MLPA makes provision for tipping off with respect to “other offences” At Section 38 of the 2010 MLPA, a person who obtains information as a result of his or her connection with the FIA is prohibited for disclosing that information to any other person unless required to do so by the MLPA or another enactment. This is a confidentiality requirement which appears to be intended to protect the integrity of the information held by the FIA. This confidentiality requirement however cannot be relied on to satisfy the examiners recommendation that it should be an offence for MLROs Compliance officers, directors and employees of financial institutions who tip off that a STR has been filed because it specifically refers to information coming to a person’s knowledge as a result of his or her connection with the FIA. Therefore in circumstances where information comes to the knowledge of any such persons in the performance of their normal banking functions Section 38 of the MLPA cannot be applied. This Recommendation remains outstanding.

Recommendation 15

49. The 2010 MLPA has mandated, at Section 16 (n) that financial institutions or a person engaged in other business activity appoint a Compliance officer at the management level, approved by the financial institution or person engaged in other business activity. Section 38 of the 2009 Guidelines makes provisions for the appointment of a Reporting officer/Compliance officer. It further states that such a person “who is also responsible for the establishment and implementation of policies, programmes, procedures and controls for the purposes of preventing or detecting money laundering. Depending on the size of the firm, there may be one such officer or a Compliance Department”. At paragraph 39 it is noted that the individual should not be involved in the day-to-day activities/operational aspects of the business and where possible it is imperative that the Reporting Officer/Compliance Officer report directly to the Board of Directors. Section 40 of the 2009 Guidelines mandates that any individual who occupies the position of Compliance Officer should be fit and proper and at a minimum must not have ever been convicted of an offence involving dishonesty. This action on the part of Saint Lucia has the effect of fully implementing the requirements of this Recommendation. It should be noted however that the examiners recommendations had also included the requirement that the Compliance Officer’s appointment should be approved by the Board of Directors of the financial institution. Whilst that recommendation falls outside of the essential criteria of Recommendation 15, its implementation will further enhance the financial institutions ability to ensure that high internal controls are maintained.

Recommendation 16

50. It was noted in the previous follow-up report and also from the comments noted for recommendation 12 above, Saint Lucia has taken all the examiners recommendation on board. Consequently, DNFBPs, which are particularised as person engaged in other business activity, by virtue of the 2010 MLPA are required to develop programmes against money laundering and terrorist financing. These programmes must include internal policies, procedures and controls, including appropriate compliance management arrangements and adequate screening procedures to ensure high standards when hiring employees. DNFBPs are also now specifically mandated to “to develop and apply policies and procedures to address specific risks associated with non face-to-face business relationships or countries that do not sufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations”.

Recommendation 17

51. The examiners recommended that the full range of sanctions should be made available to all supervisors. They had also noted that the sanctions were not effective proportionate and dissuasive. Since the Mutual Evaluation the Minister responsible for International Financial Services in Saint Lucia has applied sanctions by revoking the licences of two financial institutions for non-compliance. The 2010 MLPA has written criminal sanctions for breaches of specific provisions of the Act. Breaches for tipping-off; failure to keep records or copies of records in a form which would allow for retrieval in a legible form within a reasonable time in order to reconstruct the transaction both attract a penalty of $100,000 and not exceeding $500,000 or a term of imprisonment of not less than seven years and not exceeding fifteen years.
52. The money laundering offences of concealing or transferring proceeds of criminal conduct, arranging with another to retain the proceeds of criminal conduct and acquisition, possession or use of proceeds of criminal conduct all carry a penalties, on summary conviction, of a fine of not less than $0.5 million and not exceeding $1 million or to imprisonment for a term of not less than five years and not exceeding ten years or both or on conviction on indictment to a fine of not less than $1 million and not exceeding $2 million or to imprisonment for a term of not less than 10 years and not exceeding 15 years or both. These offences are particularised at Sections 28, 29 and 30 of the 2010 MLPA. Where a person, is convicted for attempting, aiding, abetting, counselling, procuring or conspiring to commit any of these offences (Sections 28, 29 and 30) similar penalties are also applicable. A body of persons, whether corporate or incorporate will be punished accordingly for breaches of Sections 28, 29 and 30 offences.
53. The 2010 MLPA has also created “Other offences” at Section 33 (3), 33 (6), 33 (7). 33 (3) relates to prejudicing a money laundering investigation by a person divulging that fact to another person. That offence carries a penalty, on summary conviction, of a fine of not less $50,000 and $250,000 or to imprisonment for a term of not less than five years and not exceeding ten years. 33 (6) relates to falsifying, concealing, destroying or otherwise disposing of or causing the falsification, concealment, destruction or disposal of a thing that is likely to be material to the execution of an freezing or forfeiture order. The penalty for this breach on summary conviction is a fine of not less than $100,000 and not exceeding $500,00 or to imprisonment for a term of not less than seven years and not exceeding 15 years or both. 33 (7) penalises failure to report suspicious transactions as required by Section 16 (1) (i) of the 2010 MLPA and carries a penalty on indictment of a fine of $500,000.
54. The 2010 MLPA makes no provisions for the application of civil or administrative sanctions. Consequently the examiners recommendation has not been fully accepted. The Money Services Business Act No. 11 of 2010 contains administrative sanctions for money services business. The Insurance Bill and Financial Services Regulatory Authority Bill that covers all financial legislation make provision for administrative sanctions.

55. The Financial Services Regulatory Authority Act was forwarded to a special legislative sub-committee of Saint Lucia's parliament where stakeholders are expected to provide comments. This law will endow the Authority with the power to impose fines on regulated entities for failure to file returns, failure to pay fees and failure to provide information. . This Recommendation is still outstanding.

Recommendation 18

56. The examiners recommendation that the Guidelines be amended to require financial institutions to ensure that their correspondence banks in a foreign country do not permit accounts to be used by shell banks has been accepted and implemented by Saint Lucia through the Guidelines. This fact was noted in the first follow-up report. The 2010 guidelines now mandate that "confirmation that the foreign corresponding bank do not permit their accounts to be used by shell banks, i.e. the bank which is incorporated in a country where it has no physical presence and is unaffiliated to any regular financial group".

Recommendation 19

57. There is the mandatory obligation at Section 21 of the 2010 MLPA whereby a person entering into a financial transaction, exceeding $25,000.00, with a financial institution of person engaged in other business activity, must fill out a source of funds declaration form. This is a prescribed form which particularises the transaction and the source of the funds. At Section 16 (l) of the same 2010 MLPA all currency transaction above $25,000.00 must be reported, upon request, to the FIA. It is unclear whether these two sections of the MLPA are connected in any way.
58. There is no mandatory obligation for financial institutions and persons engaged in other business activity to record all transactions in excess of any particular threshold. However, the combined effect of the two sections can possibly result in all transactions above $25,000.00 being reported. The inherent weaknesses will therefore be in the implementation of these provisions and the efficiency with which source of funds declaration forms are reduced to an electronic format. It is also unknown whether the FIA routinely requests or has ever requested such information and whether a computerised database will be maintained. Notwithstanding, the intent on the part of Saint Lucia goes beyond the requirement to simply consider the feasibility of implementing such a system.

Recommendation 20

59. The examiners had commented that there was a lack of effectiveness of the procedures adopted by Saint Lucia for modern secure techniques. In order to fill the gaps they discerned the examiners recommended that Saint Lucia conduct more onsite inspections and enact the Money Remittance Laws. The Saint Lucian authorities have commenced an exercise of regulating DNFBPs and it is intended that this will redound to more inspections and consequently better regulation of the industry. The Money Services Business Act was enacted and came into force on 3rd March 2010.

60. As detailed at Recommendations 12 and 16 above, provisions have been adopted to ensure enhanced due diligence by DNFBPs. The MLPA is however silent on the adoption of modern secure transaction techniques. Notwithstanding, this silence, as at June 2010, Saint Lucia had developed a network of Automatic Teller Machines (ATM) numbering 54 and Point of Sales Systems (POS) numbering 819. This demonstrates that there is commitment in ensuring that modern secure techniques for conducting less vulnerable financial transactions are being implemented. Under section 2 of the 2010 MLPA the word transaction has been expanded to include Internet transaction.

Recommendation 21

61. No change from the first follow-up report. Of the two recommendations made by the examiners to cure the deficiency discerned in the MER, Saint Lucia has mandated in the 2010 MLPA at Section 16 (1) (h) that financial institutions and a person engaged in other business activity shall “to develop and apply policies and procedures to address specific risks associated with non face-to-face business relationships or countries that do not sufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations”. The examiners recommendation that the FIA be required to disseminate information about areas of concern and weaknesses in AML/CFT systems of other countries has not been implemented.

Recommendation 22

62. The examiners had noted that there were no statutory obligations requiring financial institutions to adopt consistent practices within a group conglomerate structure. Additionally it was noted in the MER at paragraph 583 that there was no legislation requiring financial institutions to ensure that their foreign branches and subsidiaries observe AML/CFT standards consistent with the home country. Finally it was noted that no legal requirement existed that obligated financial institutions to inform their home supervisor when a foreign branch or subsidiary is unable to observe appropriate AML/CFT measures because it is prohibited by the host country. Paragraphs 8 of the Guidelines speak to group practice where a group has its headquarters in Saint Lucia. In such circumstances branches or subsidiaries are required to observe the Guidelines or adhere to Saint Lucian standards if those are at least equivalent. Such branches and subsidiaries are required to be informed as to the current group policy; and each of such branch or subsidiary must inform itself as to its own local reporting point, equivalent to the FIA in Saint Lucia and that it is conversant with the procedures for suspicious transaction reporting. Not only do these requirements fall short of the recommendations made by the examiners but by placing them in the Guidelines Saint Lucia has effectively negated their enforceability.

Recommendation 24

63. Saint Lucia has not implemented any of the examiners recommendations.

Recommendation 25

64. The Guidelines, which was issued by the FIA, was circulated to all stakeholders in Saint Lucia, in May of 2010. The FIA has reportedly begun acknowledging the receipt of STRs from reporting entities whilst currently considering the logistics of implementing a system of feedback consistent with the accepted best practices. During 2009 into 2010, some training was conducted for Credit Unions, Offshore banks and Commercial Banks, covering CDD and KYC principles. 2009 into 2010

Recommendation 29

65. This Recommendation remains partially met. Saint Lucia intends to enact the Financial Services Regulatory Act during 2010. This Act has its genesis in a study, which was conducted in 2002, which concluded that the creation of an integrated unit for supervising the Saint Lucian financial sector was feasible because of the fragmentation that existed within the sector. With the establishment with the FSSU the domestic insurance sector and the offshore sector is now under the same regulatory authority.
66. The Act will seek to establish the Financial Services Regulatory Authority as a body corporate, which will have responsibility for administering several enactments germane to Saint Lucia financial system.
67. These enactments include the Cooperatives Societies Act, Cap. 12.06 (with regard to credit unions only, the Insurance Act, the International Banks Act, Cap. 12.17, the International Insurance Act, Cap.12.15, International Mutual Funds Act, 2006, No. 22, Money Services Business Act, Registered Agent and Trustees Act, Cap. 12.12 and the Saint Lucia Development Bank Act No 12 of 2008. The powers, duties and functions of the Financial Services Regulatory Authority will be to consider and grant or refuse applications and requests pursuant to any of the enactments mentioned above; maintain a general review of the operations of all regulated entities; examine the affairs or business of a regulated entity for the purpose of satisfying itself that the provisions of the Financial Services Regulatory Act and the enactments specified above are being complied with and that a regulated entity is in a sound financial position and is managing the business of the regulated entity in a prudent manner; assist any authorised authority in the investigation of any offence against the laws of Saint Lucia which it has reasonable grounds to believe has or may have been committed by a regulated entity; and co-operate with the FIA, other regulatory authorities and the Eastern Caribbean Central Bank in the supervision of a regulated entity.
68. The core guiding principles of the Financial Services Regulatory Authority are intended to be the reduction of the risk to the public of financial loss due to dishonesty, incompetence or malpractice by or through the imprudence of persons carrying on the business of financial services in or from within Saint Lucia; the reduction of the risk to the public of financial loss due to dishonesty, incompetence or malpractice by or through the imprudence of persons carrying on the business of financial services in or from within Saint Lucia and the protection and enhancement of the reputation and integrity of Saint Lucia in financial matters; seek the best economic and social interests of Saint Lucia; seek the need to counter financial crime both in Saint Lucia and elsewhere; ensure the protection and fair treatment for consumers; seek to ensure the stable and secure financial markets; ensure the competitive and innovative financial markets (including a choice of organizational options); ensure proportionate, risk-based regulations; ensuring prudential supervision and enforcement; seek the management responsibilities (including the maintenance of adequate financial and managerial resources); and ensure the application of ethical conduct at all levels of the regulated entity.

69. The Financial Services Regulatory Authority will be granted the power to issue guidelines, in administering the provisions of the Act, to regulated entities and their affiliates.
70. The functions of the Saint Lucian parliamentary system suggest that the provision anticipated in the bill that is currently before the Parliament may be quite different to the provisions that will eventually be enacted in the Act. It should be noted as well that the examiners observation that there was no obligation that gives the FIA adequate powers to monitor and ensure compliance, with requirements to combat money laundering and terrorist financing consistent, with the FATF Recommendations, by financial institutions was not addressed by Saint Lucia.

Recommendation 30

71. It is unclear to what extent the action taken by Saint Lucia has positively impacted on the shortcomings discerned by the examiners. The UKSAT (Security Advisory Team) now ECFIAT (Eastern Caribbean Financial Intelligence Advisory Team) provided training to the judiciary, the DPP's office and the FIA. This training was focused on prosecutions. Additionally a new staffing initiative that will lead to an increase in the staff of the FIA has reportedly been adopted. None of the examiners recommendations relating to dedicated analysts for the FIA, specialized training in financial crime analysis, and increased resources to law enforcement agencies have been implemented.

Recommendation 31

72. Saint Lucia has taken some action towards closing the gaps discerned in their MER, by reportedly establishing a White Collar Crime Task Force, for the main purpose of co-ordinating and co-operating domestically at the operational level. Interestingly, the Financial Services Supervision Unit (FSSU), as the financial services regulator, is not included as a member of this Task Force. Additionally, a committee has been created to monitor Saint Lucia's implementation of the 40 + nine Recommendations. Notwithstanding, the mechanism to formalise co-operation between and among stakeholders, Saint Lucia has established an MOU between the Police and the FIA.

Recommendation 32

73. The examiners had recommended that Saint Lucia put in place a comprehensive framework that will enable the effectiveness of the system to combat ML and TF to be reviewed on a regular and timely basis. The FIA is mandated as the go-to agency for the compilation of statistics in Saint Lucia. This mandate existed in the 2003 MLPA and has been maintained in the 2010 MLPA as well. The FIA has reportedly improved its database, which now includes statistical data on wire transfers. Notwithstanding, there is no clear indication of the steps that Saint Lucia has taken to ensure that the examiners recommendation are implemented. Saint Lucia has indicated that the 2010 MLPA permits the FIA to conduct the necessary review. However the sections of the 2010 MLPA quoted by Saint Lucia (5 and 6 (h) which would supposedly permit the FIA to conduct this review only actually speaks to the FIA's authority to compile statistics and is quiet in every other aspect of the examiners recommendations and the type statistics that the FIA is mandated to maintain.

Recommendation 33 & 34

74. The sum of Saint Lucia efforts to comply with the recommendations of the examiners is the introduction of an automated system at the Companies Registry. These Recommendations remains outstanding.

Recommendation 37

75. The underlying condition of dual criminality has not been addressed by Saint Lucia.

Recommendation 39

76. Money laundering, terrorism and terrorist financing have been made extraditable offences by virtue of the Extradition (Amendment) Act 3 of 2010, which amended the Extradition Act, Cap 2.10. Terrorism has been criminalized with the enactment of the Anti-Terrorism Act of 2003.

Special Recommendation VI

77. The Money Service Act was enacted and came into force on January 25th, 2010. The pre-amble to this law states that this is an Act to require licensing and regulation of money services businesses and to make provisions for related matters. Under this Act Money Service Business means:

(a) the business of providing (as a primary business) any one or more of the following -

- (i) transmission of money or monetary value in any form;
- (ii) cheque cashing;
- (iii) currency exchange;
- (iv) the issuance, sale or redemption of money orders or traveler's cheques; and
- (v) any other services the Minister may specify by Notice published in the Gazette; or

(b) the business of operating as an agent or franchise holder of any of the businesses mentioned above.

78. It must immediately noted that by virtue of Part B of Schedule 2 of the MLPA, the only activity of MSBs directly covered with regards to AML/CFT obligations are money transmission services. This is because money transmission services is listed as other business activity and is therefore covered by many of the same requirements for AML/CFT as financial institutions.

79. The Money Services Business Act prohibits the carrying on of money services businesses in Saint Lucia unless a licence is obtained. The Act has designated the Financial Services Regulatory Authority as the authority responsible for issuing such licenses and maintaining a general review of money services business practice in Saint Lucia. Whilst the Act is silent on the requirement to maintain a current listing of the names and addresses of licensed service operators, the combined effect of the mandatory obligation to licence operators and also to maintain a general overview of their operations can redound to ensuring that this obligation is met.

80. There is no obligation for each service operator to maintain a listing of its agents. Consequently no such listing will be available to the competent authorities.
81. This Recommendation was rated as being NC by the examiners who made five recommendations to close the gaps which they had discerned. Although the MSB Act has been enacted and is in force, no emphasis was placed on AML/CFT requirements. At Section 48 (1) (f) the Authority may issue guidelines 'respecting' anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism matters. No such guidelines have been issued and the language used suggests that the Authority is not obligated so to do.
82. The sanctions applicable for breaches of obligation in the Act are aimed at breaches of prudential requirements so in the circumstances where there is no AML/CFT obligation breaches in this regards may go unpunished. This Recommendation remains outstanding

Special Recommendation VII

83. There has been no change since the last follow-up report. The 2010 Guidelines at paragraph 178 has detailed the originator information which financial institutions are required to retain. This information include records of the identity and address of (a) the remitting customer; (b) origin of the funds (the account number, when being transferred from an account) (c) as far as possible the identity of the ultimate recipient; (d) the form of instruction and authority; and (e) Destination of the funds, for electronic transfers. The other recommendations by the examiners remain outstanding. The MLPA at Section 7 (1) (b) (iv), 17 (3) (a) and 17 (4) (d) and 17 (10) identify the procedure in relation to risk based procedures for wire transfers.

Special Recommendation VIII

84. Saint Lucia has put together an ad hoc supervisory committee for monitoring NPOs in the jurisdiction. This committee was endorsed by the Saint Lucian Cabinet as the Not for Profit Oversight Committee. The committee is made up of individuals from the Registry of Companies and Intellectual Property, the Inland Revenue, the Ministry of Social Transformation, and the Attorney General's Chambers and has been mandated to scrutinise all application for incorporation and undertake due diligence of all applicants, and higher due diligence for applicants who are non nationals; undertake face to face interviews with all applicants; scrutinise all applications to determine its legitimacy; circulates financial and CDD guidelines for all approves applications and develop best practices for NPO, guidelines and Customer Due Diligence requirements. In May 2009 the committee reviewed for adoption a draft policy regarding a code of conduct for non-profit organisations and regulation of NGOs to promote transparency, accountability and best practices. This policy has been adopted by the Saint Lucian Cabinet which has agreed to its implementation
85. The above notwithstanding, Saint Lucia has not as yet implemented any of the recommendations made by the examiners and as such this recommendation is still outstanding.

Special Recommendation IX

86. Other than allowing the FIA to collect analyze and receive reports and information submitted by customs officers none of the other recommendations made by the examiners have been taken on board.

Conclusion

87. Following the Mutual Evaluation, Saint Lucia has taken a comprehensive review of its AML/CFT infrastructure. As indicated in the first follow-up report, this review and the resulting recommendations have resulted in several pieces of new legislation being drafted together with amendments to key legislation being enacted. The 2010 MLPA has undergone significant changes and many of the examiners recommendations, which were aimed at the guidelines, were enacted in the substantive legislation (MLPA), thereby positively impacting Saint Lucia compliance with several Recommendations including core Recommendations 1 and 5 and 13 and SR IV. Core Recommendation 10 has also now been fully met. Relative to the key Recommendations Recommendation 23 has now been fully met. Recommendations 3, 4, 26, 35, 36, 40 and SRI, SRIII and SRV have not been met.
88. Guidelines have been issued pursuant to the 2010 MLPA. These guidelines have been published and circulated on Monday 17th May 2010. Although this action on the part of Saint Lucia has positively influenced several other Recommendations most of the key Recommendations are still outstanding. Legislative amendments are however already within the law making process awaiting comments from industry stakeholders.
89. Given the aforementioned it is recommended that Saint Lucia remain on expedited follow-up and report back to the Plenary in May 2011.
